Thanksgiving Day.

Tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day, will be a legal holiday, so designated by the President and the Governor of Virginia. The day will be observed here as such, though there will be no general suspension of business nor will there be any special features. The banks and public offices will be closed, the post-office will observe Sanday hours, the schools will be given holiday and after the morning hours many of the stores will be closed. The day in many instances will be one of family reunion and the Thanksgiving dinner will be the teature. Many will enjoy the day hunting in the neighboring country, while others will make excursions to the near-The day will be one of rest to a few but to the majority it will be one of strengous exertion. ### Thanksgiving Service.

As has been announced, a special choral service will be held at St Paul's Church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, when Schnecker's Cantata, "The Fatherhood of God" will be sung. Schnecker is one of the best writers of sacred music and this cantata is a succession of beautiful solos, duets and trios, which will be sung by the different members of the choir, and the choruses by the full choir of forty voices. All are invited to this service. Ushers will sent those who are not regular attendants at the ### Police Commissioners.

The police commissioners at their meeting last night elected Officer B. Frank Beitis second lieutenant of the force. Officer John T. Roberts and former Sergeant James T. Smith were nominated for the position. The second lieutenant will have practically the same daties to perform as those of the first lieu-tenant, but will only receive the com-pensation of a private. The chief will now be the executive head of the body, having been relieved from the routine duties of supervision of the force. The commissioners adopted the remaining sections of the new set of rules for the management of the force.

The new rules contain many sections taken from the old book, but the present regulations are more positive and bind-ing upon the officers and members of the The preface is as follows :

The Drowning of M. L. Cleveland.

The body of Melvin L. Cl-veland, the young Naval Reserve boatswain of the steamer Oncida, of the District National Guard, who was swept from his post and drowned early Monday morning on the boat's cruise down the Potomac to meet President Roosevelt, has not been found, despite the fact that the lower river has been thoroughly dragged. The Oneida returned to Washington yesterday at noon. The drowing occurred before daylight Monday morning Young Cleve-land had gone on watch on the power launch of the Oneida, which was being towed by a cable about fifteen fathoms He was steering this craft. Off Coltons a man stationed on the stern of the Oneida to watch the boat in tow noticed that the boat was acting queerly and heard a cry of distress from Cleve-land. He had the ship stopped as quickly as possible, and the fact that Cieveiand was missing was discovered. The boat in tow was partly filled with water, but still easily affort. The boat has air chambers and caunot be sunk. It is believed that in its careening, the yo ng overboard. The weather being cold, he was heavily clad and wore large rubber boots. No man could swim in this apparel, and Cleveland went down despite the fact that he was a strong swimmer.

Mr. Roht. L. Monroe, who was last might elected by the Common Courcil, a member of that body, is a prominent young business man of this city, being a member of the wholesale and retail grocery firm of Garrett & Monroe. It is believed by his many friends that he will nake an excellent councilman.

Fined Ten Dollars.

Charles Gaskins, colored, was arrested resterday by Officers Lyles and Knight charged with stealing two breastpins from a residence on north Washington street. Gaskins was working for a paperhanger of this city and had gone to the residence to clean the walls preparatory to the hanging of paper on them. After Gaskins had departed the lady of the house discovered that two breastpins were missing. The suspect was found and charged with the theft of the jeweiry. articles that belonged to the lady to gether with another made of brase. The lady repudiated the latter and took possession of the one belonging to her. Gaskins was given a reasonable time in which to produce the other pin, and failing to do so was arrested. He claimed that he found the gold and brest pins on the floor of the room in which he was employed. The accused was brought before the Police Court this morning and fined $10 by Justice Caton. This was the only case on the docket.

Reuben Brown, aged fourteen years, son of J. T. Brown, of Caroline county, has been arrested by Detective Kennedy, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, and has confessed to having tied pieces of iron on the railroad track near Milford. Discovery was made in time to prevent the wreck of a Sea-board Air Line train which had previously left this city. An effort will be made to send the boy to the State Reformatory.

Dr. John H. Ladd, thirty-eight years old, and John Shipley, forty years old, both of Washington, were rescued opposite Geisboro Point yesterday after-noon by Capt. Ellis, of the sloop Fanoy hepherd, after having battled against death for nearly two hours. They had been precipitated into the water by the overturning of their skiff. When taken out of the water the men were badly chilled. They were transferred from the sloop to the police harbor boat Vigilant, which carried them ashore.

Mysterious Death Newark, N. J., Nov. 28 -- Littl- light as been thrown on the mysterious death of Richard L. Barrington, an artist, in his office here yesterday, with a bullet wound in either temple, by the police investigation today. For the present, Mrs. Frank Hogel, or Carrie Utter, as she was known here, Barrington's stenographer, is being held. Barrington is known to have been in financial ditress. Mrs. Hogel says she left the office at 11 o'clock vesterday after asking Barrington to pay her $35 salary, which he confessed he could not do. She return ed at 2 to find his dead body on the floor. She summoned an elevator boy who gave the alarm. Mrs. Hegel asserts Barring-ton killed bimself. If this is true, he must have changed the revolver found near him from one hand to the other after the first shot was fired and pulled the trigger twice, as the first cartridge tailed to explode.
